How to jam Google Wallet?

2019/09/05

Hi Paul! Google Wallet is cool NFC payment service that is widely spread now. It lets you to turn your smartphone into a wallet and make your shopping safer and far more convenient. Google Wallet also works with credit and debit cards, so, in a couple of years we can be totally free from cards and cash. Everything necessary for shopping will be in our mobile phone. Google Wallet Service is really handy when it comes to internet shopping because all your bargains are secured and all your cards are tied up in one account for more convenient management. All the data is stored on Google's highly secured servers so nobody will get to it. Even if you lose your phone you can block all your accounts remotely. I can say that those NFC payment systems are the future of the cash. To prevent a near field communications system from working you can use our UHF/VHF jamming device. It will surely block those as well as RFID (radio frequency identification) chips and CCTV cameras. As you can see that device affects rather wide variety of different frequencies so use it with caution and responsibility. That device was meant to be a stationary jammer but it was upgraded with a car power inverter to be more mobile. Jammer-Store wishes you luck! And thanks for your question!
